District checklist items for September

Tasks For September

Reserve time at a school board meeting

Having the school board knowledgeable of the good work being done is important for policy and funding decisions.

Send reminder to schools teams about upcoming staff perception assessments: Self-Assessment Survey (SAS—behavior) and All Staff (academics)

Schools that have district expectations and support are more likely to continue to assess their implementation and plan from the results.

Recurring Tasks For September

Communicate progress across teams and schools

Establishes timely feedback loops across the district.

Provide time for systematic continuous improvement

Schedule and prioritize district improvement/action planning, professional development, etc.

Communicate progress to families and stakeholders

Establishes feedback loops among staff (across teams and schools), families, students, and communities.
