

Attend the 2019 PBIS Leadership Conference via live stream near you!
Featuring PBIS and equity leaders from the local to national level

We're streaming the 2019 PBIS Leadership Conference LIVE from the Kalahari Conference Center in Wisconsin Dells to your local CESA. Sign up today to attend this unique opportunity to view sessions live, ask the leadership conference presenters questions, collaborate with colleagues, and much more! Here's the lineup...

Keynote Address: Dr. Heather Peshak George

Dr. George brings extensive experience in providing training and technical assistance in behavior across a continuum and variety of settings. She'll be sharing insights into the district's role in PBIS implementation.

Redefining the Role of the Team

You'll learn strategies to specifically build or refine team structures.

Elephant in the Room: Talking Race in Safe Spaces

We'll share internal and external barriers that prevent schools and districts from having meaningful conversations about race that lead to improved student outcomes.

Five Steps to Creating Positive Environments in the Classroom

We'll provide five specific take-away steps with suggested strategies for relationship building, providing quick feedback and low-intensity error correction, and much more. Find an elbow partner because this session is collaborative.

Here is what your peers said about last year's live-stream event experience!

- "I would not have been able to go to the actual conference due to time and funding. This worked out perfectly."
- "It brought high-quality learning to a rural part of the state."
- "It provided an avenue for attending at least some of the conference when travelling to the Dells was not possible."
- "It was a great way for us to get the main content."
- "It was nice to be able to attend at our CESA so it's nearby and just one day."
- "We were still able to get a glimpse within the sessions even though we were not able to get to the conference."
